

Dana Reese is a Georgia-born artist who has passionately pursued her artistic journey as a self-taught creative force. Her art is a vibrant blend of contemporary folk art, abstract florals, abstracts, and abstract figures. Dana's latest series, "Out and About," showcases her unique ability to capture the essence of abstract figures in dynamic scenes, while her ongoing series, "In The Greenhouse," invites viewers into a world of botanical wonder.

Dana Reese's love for texture and her mastery of the palette knife add depth and dimension to her pieces, creating a tactile and visually engaging experience for the viewer.

Her artistic process is deeply intuitive, allowing her creativity to flow freely and spontaneously onto the canvas. Each brushstroke and color choice is a reflection of her inner emotions and perceptions, resulting in artwork that is both emotionally charged and visually stimulating.

Dana Reese's art studio is located in Chamblee, Georgia, where she is an integral part of the vibrant artistic community at Urban Art Collective. Her studio is a haven of creativity and experimentation, where she continues to push the boundaries of her craft.

Dana Reese's work can also be found in various galleries and stores, where her art has been embraced by art enthusiasts and collectors alike. Her unique blend of contemporary folk art, abstracts, and abstract figures resonates with a wide audience, offering a diverse range of pieces to suit every taste.

Dana Reese's art is a celebration of the boundless possibilities of creativity, a journey that she invites others to embark upon with her through her captivating and evocative work.
